77. PEOPLE AND PLACE OVERVIEW AND SCRUTINY COMMITTEE ANNUAL REPORT

The Chairman spoke in relation to the Annual Report of the Committee and advised that this would be the final Annual Report.

He went on to express the pride he felt about the work undertaken by scrutiny over the last five years in delivering a challenge to the services the Council provides. He advised that implementation of the recommendations made by the Committee had seen services improve and attitudes change.

He advised that the three scrutiny reviews carried out during the final year of the Council had been done so in difficult circumstances but it was hoped that the reviews would effect improvement of the futures.

He went on to add his thanks to the Leader of Chester-le-Street District Council and the other members of the Executive for their influence in helping make scrutiny in Chester-Le-Street District Council what it has been.

He also sincerely thanked Shelley Marshall, Democratic Services Assistant, for the excellent work with scrutiny when Nigel Cummings, Scrutiny Officer, left the employ of the Council and also Ian Forster, director of Corporate Services, for his patience and support.

Finally he thanked all those present for the tremendous work, help, support and friendship.

RESOLVED: "That the report be agreed by the Committee and the comments made be noted."

Prior to the termination of the meeting, the director of Corporate Services conveyed his thanks for the hard work the chairman had put in to driving scrutiny forward in the authority and making it the success it had become.

The meeting terminated at 7.15 pm
