

Report of Amy Harhoff, Director of Regeneration, Economy and Growth, Durham County Council

Electoral division(s) affected:

Countywide

Purpose of the Report

- 1 This report gives an overview of the process that is being followed to develop a new Inclusive Economic Strategy for the council. It is a priority of the County Council to engage in the development of the strategy from the very start of the process through 'Our Big Econ-versation'.

Executive summary

- 2 In December 2021, the council's Cabinet agreed to the process for developing a new Inclusive Economic Strategy using a three-stage process:
  - (a) Economic Review: Core evidence base (Appendix 3);
  - (b) Economic Statement: A short document to inform the conversations on the new strategy (Appendix 4); and
  - (c) Conversation and Strategy Development: A broad conversation with stakeholders and partners which will be used to develop a draft strategy.
- 3 The new strategy will be in place by the end of the calendar year.
- 4 It is important to understand the views and aspirations of a wide range of stakeholders, including residents and businesses, before the strategy is developed and to facilitate this a major consultation exercise was launched at the end of January. This is called 'Our Big Econ-versation' and is structured to enable people and organisations to participate either digitally through the completion of an online survey or by joining in on one of the many conversation events that will be held focusing in on specific sectors, geographies, or stakeholder group.
- 5 The Econ-versation will end on 22 April. We will then collate and analyse all of the comments made pulling out the key issues, barriers and opportunities as well as any suggested actions and priorities. We will then prepare a feedback report which will clearly identify what was said and how it has been taken into account. This will also inform the drafting of the Inclusive Economic Strategy which we will then consult on again in the summer where we will be asking whether what has been prepared reflects what was said. We will then amend the draft strategy as necessary before it is finalised and adopted by the end of 2022.

- 6 The Inclusive Economic Strategy will be a key document to support the County's economic growth in the future.

Recommendation

- 7 Health and Wellbeing Board Members are invited to consider the process and provide any comments on key areas to be considered as part of 'Our Big Econ-versation'.

Background

- 8 In December 2021 the council's Cabinet agreed an approach to develop a new Inclusive Economic Strategy based on a three-stage process:

- (a) Economic Review: Core evidence base (Appendix 3);
- (b) Economic Statement: A short document to inform the conversations on the new strategy (Appendix 4); and
- (c) Conversation and Strategy Development: A broad conversation with stakeholders and partners which will be used to develop a draft strategy.

9 Cabinet agreed that the strategy would be based on the evidence in an Economic Review and adopted a short Economic Statement until the strategy is completed.

10 Some of the findings of the Economic Review include:

- The Gross Value Added (GVA) of our economy has grown by £2.6 billion over the last fifteen years to £9 billion, which is a 44% rate of growth but significantly below the national rate of 64%;
- At £16,925 our GVA per capita is 56% of the national average of £30,239. If we had matched national levels of growth in the last fifteen years, it would be around 10% higher at around £18,400;
- The employment rate is lower than the national average with 73.8% of the working age population in employment, compared to 74.7% nationally, accounting for £105 million of the gap in GVA levels;
- 89% of County Durham's primary schools are either outstanding or good, comparable to 88% nationally;
- County Durham has a far lower proportion of residents with higher level skills (40%) than the national average (50%);
- ONS population estimates suggest there will be an additional 36,850 people aged 65 and over (+33.3%) resident in County Durham by 2039, while there will be 9,400 fewer people across the key working age groups;
- Over 22,000 residents in County Durham are economically inactive due to long-term health conditions, accounting for 29.5% of those classed as economically inactive, exceeding the regional (28.8%) and national (23.0%) proportions;
- Manufacturing and health are County Durham's most prominent employment sectors, accounting for 13.7% of employment (50,000 people) each;

- County Durham already has an established reputation for innovation and a specialism in Research and Development. Research suggests that if the level of innovation was to match Cambridge this could create 16,000 additional jobs;
- Sectors which are under-represented include: professional, scientific and technical professions that account of 4.4% of jobs in County Durham compared to 9.8% nationally;
- On average, 10% of businesses have ceased per annum over the last five years, which is considerably lower than the regional attrition rate;
- 11.7% of the workforce work in caring and leisure roles compared to 8.8% nationally. Similarly, only 8.7% of the workforce are in managerial and senior roles compared to 11.8% nationally; and
- The median house price in 2019 in County Durham was £120,000, the lowest across all North East local authorities, marginally below the North East average (£140,000) and significantly below the national figure (£240,000).

11 The Economic Statement identifies the relevant elements of the Council Plan, summarises the recommendations and key economic evidence from the Economic Review, and sets out a framework to use to develop the new strategy. The '5P framework' is based around five key elements which we will use to structure discussions with stakeholders:

- (a) People: Supporting people into education, training, jobs, and to excel in business and their careers
- (b) Prosperity: Supporting business innovation, growth, and higher levels of productivity
- (c) Places: Improving places and infrastructure so people and businesses can access opportunities
- (d) Promotion: Promotion of the County and our assets to visitors, investors, and developers
- (e) Partnerships: Working in partnership to develop an inclusive, greener economy

12 Cabinet agreed that the development of the strategy should be preceded by a conversation with stakeholders across the county to understand their views on economic opportunities and challenges. It was agreed that a comprehensive report would be produced to analyse the feedback from the conversations and support the development of a draft strategy that we then further consult on before adoption in autumn 2022.

Our Big Econ-versation

- 13 In January, a stakeholder engagement process was launched as 'Our Big Econ-versation'. The conversation is supported by its own website which has been designed to catch people's attention, surveys for businesses, residents and young people, and a comprehensive media campaign including social media, press releases, bus advertising, case studies of residents and businesses, County Durham News, posters, and advertising.
- 14 The council is also organising several bespoke events with businesses including a Business Breakfast on 29 March 2022, presentations and workshops for the county's Business Networks, the North East England Chamber of Commerce, Registered Providers, Enterprise Agencies and the County Durham Start Up Network. We are also holding workshops with the North East Local Enterprise Partnership to discuss evidence and delivery and with Durham University and the NHS Foundation Trusts to discuss the role of anchor organisations. To reflect the importance of the visitor economy we will also be working with Visit County Durham on a specific workshop.
- 15 We are also working with our communities and our members through presentations and discussion at Area Action Partnerships, promoting the conversation at meetings hosted by other bodies such as the County Durham thematic partnerships, external organisations and town and parish councils. We are also working specifically with the County Durham Together Partnership to encourage engagement in the conversation including through distributing a facilitation pack which enables the huge number of groups in their network to hold their own workshops and feedback their comment. We are also working with our Community Champions and are arranging a series of workshops to explore different topics. We intend to use this approach throughout the Econ-versation, using some of the principles of co-production, including through asking for volunteers to get involved as part of our over 18 survey.
- 16 The council is asking our partners and stakeholders to promote the conversation amongst their networks. Appendix 2 includes a sample of stakeholders that we are engaging with, although we are identifying and making arrangements to speak to additional stakeholders on a daily basis.
- 17 In the early phases of the conversation period, all events have been online, but as Covid-19 restrictions are lifted a number of face-to face workshops are planned to take place. We are also working with colleagues across the council (e.g. public health, the gypsy and traveller service), external partners (e.g. voluntary and community groups), and programmes (e.g. DurhamWorks) to ensure the conversations include individuals and groups that may not have ICT equipment or may need additional support in order to respond. Responses and feedback - via discussions, surveys, social media, and website visits - are being constantly monitored and the conversation methods are being adjusted as lessons are learnt.

- 18 The conversations will take place until 22 April 2022. The number of survey responses is averaging around 100 per week which is positive, and these are being supplemented with feedback from the meetings and events we are organising. However, in order to improve response rates, and address some feedback, we have made changes to the surveys, which alongside events and promotion have increased response rates. We are determined to use an interactive approach and engage with as many people and groups as possible providing feedback throughout the process. We will also be using elements of co-production where the council and the community work together, recognising that both have vital contributions to make, in order to improve the quality of life for our people and communities.
- 19 Early feedback from surveys and meetings includes many comments linking health and wellbeing to the economy, including:
- High numbers of care worker jobs are available but few in other sectors;
  - Awareness of young people that the care sector is a valid career option;
  - Homeworking is an opportunity for people with long-term sickness issues, disabilities, people with caring responsibilities, and young people;
  - The costs and time needed for childcare impact on the ability of people to access education;
  - Mental health issues identified by young people;
  - The high levels of anti-social behaviour by young people in town centres potentially having an impact on people's mental health; and
  - Access to doctors and dentists is identified regularly and the need to match these services to new housing and ageing population has been identified.

- 20 The surveys are designed in a way that allows the council to drill-down into localised and individualised feedback, which will be assessed during the conversation period and in the report that is produced to evaluate the outcomes of the conversations.

Inclusive Economic Strategy

- 21 The draft strategy will be produced for consultation in the summer. Alongside this, we will present a report to Cabinet which demonstrates how the conversations have shaped the strategy. Subject to the second consultation and Cabinet approval we will finalise the strategy and take it back to Cabinet for final approval before publication.
- 22 The strategy will align with other corporate strategies such as the County Durham Vision, County Durham Plan, and Climate Emergency Response Plan and the Joint Health and Wellbeing Strategy.
- 23 The Government has invited the council to develop a county devolution deal and investment plan<sup>1</sup>, associated with the UK Shared Prosperity Fund (the replacement for EU funding). The Inclusive Economic Strategy will be integral to the process of agreeing opportunities and priorities for support with the Government, as well as regional bodies and private investors. The Government has also published the Levelling Up White Paper<sup>2</sup> which gives a strong indication of the Government's medium-term priorities and where we might be able to expect or negotiate support and investment via a county deal. The White Paper includes twelve 'missions' against which the Government is seeking tangible improvements. One of these missions relates to health a further relates to wellbeing.

Conclusion

- 24 The new Inclusive Economic Strategy will be vital for the council to define and demonstrate its approach to tackling economic issues and harnessing economic opportunities to local and regional stakeholders, the Government and investors. Our Big Econ-versation will be a chance to engage with a wide range of stakeholders on challenges and opportunities and evaluate the economic evidence base. The conversation will continue until 22 April and will underpin the development of the new strategy by the end of 2022.
