Director of Public Health Annual Report 2023

10 years in Local Authority -
Looking back to plan ahead

Health of our People

- Good quality data and intelligence underpins effective working across multiple local organisations.
- Data is used to carry out health needs assessments, health equity audits, commissioning and delivery of services, public health surveillance and identifying inequalities in the way people access services.

The Joint Strategic Needs and Assets Assessment (JSNAA) provides a detailed overview of the current and future health and wellbeing needs of the people of County Durham.

Examples of work undertaken via the JSNAA strategic group:

- Veterans' Health Needs Assessment
  - The recommendations were developed in conjunction with members of the County Durham Armed Forces Forum.
- Ageing Well Health Needs Assessment
  - The key themes and recommendations were used to populate the Ageing Well Action Plan which is now being implemented

Impacts on Health and Wellbeing

- Our health and the health of our population is dependent on a complex relationship between our genes, and three broader factors.
- Data for County Durham is shown in relation to these influences on health and wellbeing compared to the England average.

10 years of Public Health in Local Authority

- The public health function and services, including the Director of Public Health's statutory responsibilities, moved from the NHS to local councils in April 2013.
- Moving into the local authority provided the environment for public health to advocate, influence and embed population health principles and healthy behaviours into the development and delivery of evidence-led health and social care strategies and services.
- Driving down the impact of wider social determinants of health and addressing the health needs of the population.

10 years of Public Health in Local Authority

- Over the last ten years we have seen how local government is ideally placed to embed and enhance actions to improve population health through collaboration with partners and informed by public health.

Collaboration – working together to improve lives

Strep A response

One of the main responsibilities for public health is protecting the public from the impact of infectious diseases.

During winter 2022/23 there were more cases of Strep A (Group A Streptococcal) infections than normal.

By acting quickly we kept the number of infections as low as possible and offered support and reassurance to people who were worried.
